Administrative history / Biographical sketch

Note

Janet White (née Chamberlin) was born in 1925. A native of Bayport, New York, she entered the Mount Sinai Hospital School of Nursing in 1944 and graduated in 1947. She was editor-in-chief of the Class of 1947 Yearbook.

Note

Phyllis Mulford was born in 1920, attended high school in the Bronx, and was living in Sandy Hook, Connecticut at the time of her application to the Mount Sinai Hospital School of Nursing. She enrolled in 1944 and graduated in 1947.

Scope and content

The collection consists primarily of original pen-and-ink sketches by Phyllis Mulford '47 that were used in the production of the Class of 1947 Yearbook. Although they were scheduled to be disposed of after printing, Ms. White retrieved them from the yearbook office, had them mounted and framed, and displayed them for many years in her home. Subjects depicted in the sketches include various scenes of nursing activity and student recreational life; a detailed list is given below.

The collection also includes a book of laboratory exercises, the Anatomy and Physiology Laboratory Manual, used by Ms. White during her time as a nursing student. It also contains a copy of Three Arches, the Class of 1947 Yearbook, with extensive inscriptions to Ms. White.
