Administrative history / Biographical sketch

Note

The Beth Israel Hospital was founded in New York City in 1889 and opened its first inpatient location in 1891. Initially established to serve the Lower East Side's growing population of Eastern European Jewish immigrants, the Hospital grew into a major charitable hospital serving patients of all backgrounds. In the 1890s it was based out of existing structures on the Lower East Side, but in 1902 the Hospital moved to a purpose-built hospital building on Jefferson and Cherry Streets. Construction on the Dazian Pavilion, the first building of Beth Israel's main campus on 17th Street on Stuyvesant Square, began in 1922. The building was completed in 1929. In the early 1930s Beth Israel affiliated with the Jewish Maternity Hospital, and in 1946, following the gradual absorption of the Maternity Hospital by the obstetrics department of Beth Israel, the two institutions were legally consolidated into a single entity under the Beth Israel Hospital Association name. In the ensuing years the Hospital affiliated with numerous other medical institutions and expanded its 17th Street campus through the construction of new buildings and the purchase of adjacent structures. In 1965, following Beth Israel's acquisition of the neighboring Manhattan General Hospital, the institution became known as the Beth Israel Medical Center. In 1997, Beth Israel merged with St. Luke's-Roosevelt Hospital Center and the Long Island College Hospital to form the Greater Metropolitan Health System, whose name was changed to Continuum Health Partners in 1998. Following the merger of Continuum Health Partners and The Mount Sinai Medical Center in 2013, Beth Israel became a part of the newly established Mount Sinai Health System. It was renamed Mount Sinai Beth Israel the following year.

Subseries AA088.S005.SS001 AA.000996 951781048: Beth Israel Medical Center Board of Trustees records

Creator: Beth Israel Medical Center (New York, N.Y.). Board of Trustees

Date: October 2013-December 2015 (date of creation)

Date: 1889-2004 (date of creation)

Scope and content:

This collection consists primarily of the minutes of the Board of Directors/Trustees of the Beth Israel Hospital and its successor institution the Beth Israel Medical Center. The minutes are complete from 1889 to 2004 with the exception of the years 1892-1896, 1903-1913, and 1925-1926. (The years up to 1989 are in bound volumes; minutes from 1990 on are in folders.) The years 1925-1936 are also covered by an incomplete second set (mostly dated 1928 and 1934-1936) of loose minute pages. Some of these pages include annotations/corrections in what is likely the hand of Hospital Superintendent Louis J. Frank.

The Board initially kept its minutes in Yiddish, but at some point between 1891 and 1897 they switched to English as the language of record. During the preparations for Beth Israel's 1989 centenary, an English translation of the 1889-1891 Yiddish minute book was created. The translation exists in two versions, a 208-page typescript and a 166-page typescript.

The collection also includes an extensive file of routine Board records for the years 1906-1907, including correspondence, memoranda, and committee reports. (See the Processing Note below for more detail on these items.) These records are organized chronologically by month. There is also a small file of routine Board records from the years 1925-1936.

Finally, the collection contains the 1905-1912 minutes of the Board subcommittee responsible for the administration of the Beth Israel Hospital Training School for Nurses.

Related material:

The other Beth Israel Medical Center collections that were formed out of the initial April 2015 shipment of records, particularly the Annual Reports and the primary Records collection, include materials that cover the same time span and subject matter as the extant Board of Trustees records. Please contact the Aufses Archives for more information.

The correspondence of Seymour J. Phillips, whose grandfather had been a founder of the Hospital and who served as a Trustee from 1936 until his death in 1987, contains material related to the Board and its activities.

(It was renamed Beth Israel Brooklyn in 2012.) The contents of this collection originate with the BIMC Development Department and Public Affairs and Marketing Department and were retrieved from offsite storage. It consists primarily of general Kings Highway Division material including: an extensive file of press releases and clippings, 1995-2000; a newsletter, "Kings Highway Division News"; the minutes of the Medical Executive Committee, 1998-2001; departmental meeting minutes, 1998-2001; brochures and flyers; patient handbooks. The collection also includes material directly related to development activities at Kings Highway, covering the transition period from a proprietary local hospital to a voluntary teaching hospital. Notably, it includes several studies of the hospital and its neighborhood around the time of the acquisition of the hospital in 1995, including a Gallup survey regarding public perception of the hospital.
